Dear Colleagues,

Time is passing by and the dates of our Brussels meeting are approaching. We are very happy that the Commission opted this time for "our" topic in the last years: the situation and perspectives for the European Studies. In this sense, we were forerunner for the Brussels Conference, fulfilling on that way one of the main roles for ECSA: to contribute to reflections that can also illuminate the institutional word, in a dialogue that can be fruitful for both sides, always respecting the specificity and therefore the autonomy of the academic world. I hope this year's conference will be the start for an intensified dialogue also with the institutions.

Kind regards,
Enrique Banús
